

Static and Site security

Site-based security to protect people and assets

Our uniformed security personnel help businesses and organizations protect their people and assets. We offer a selection of services that are designed to prepare and provide secure work environments, especially in South and Central Somalia. Our static security solutions are based on a layered security plan that encompasses fixed and roving posts, checkpoints, access control and technical security systems. We analyze client vulnerabilities and follow up with recommendations ranging from installing security equipment and deploying security personnel to the development of information security programs. We also provide highly trained static security staff to deter, detect, and respond to hostile threats.

Mobile security

Mobile security and secure transportation management services.

Mobile Security – which includes Journey Management and Secure Transportation Services – is a key area of our expertise. Our highly trained security personnel escort clients in high-risk areas in a fleet of high-quality B6 armored and softskin vehicles equipped with radio communications systems, which enable our operations centers to track our clients' movements in real time. In the event of an emergency, all our client movements ensure a vehicle cross-over capability and Quick Reaction Force (QRF) support from our operations hubs. We deploy different profiles as dictated by the threat, intelligence picture and specific requirements of our clients, the task and the operating environment.

Close protection

Executive Team Protection

Our close protection teams provide security services for diplomats and commercial clients in high-risk environments of Somalia. Also known as VIP or Executive Protection, our close protection teams comprise highly trained former Somali army Special Forces professionals that protect diplomats, commercial clients and development staff who operate in high-threat environments-like Mogadishu and may be at risk of physical attack.

The main principal emphasis of close protection is a professional low-profile demeanor that attracts minimum attention to the principal and the team in a "low and medium" threat environment. It provides armed protection to the principal against any harm, whether intentional or un-intentional. Medical assistance is also provided as required
